Meet Me at the Didsbury Chautauqua, November 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Worthy Matron, O.E.S. Pays Official Visit

The members of the Didsbury chapter of the Eastern Star, together with a large number of visitors gathered to welcome the Worthy Matron of Alberta, Mrs. Callen, of Edmonton, when she paid her official visit to the local chapter on Friday evening.

Other grand officers present were: Mr. Steele, of Calgary, Grand Worthy Patron; Mrs. Seufie, of Calgary, Grand Associate Matron; Mrs. Hartman, of O.E.S., Grand Conductress; Mrs. McFee, of Three Hills, and Mrs. Shaw, of Jasper Park.

Other visitors came from Aene, Three Hills, Edmonton, O.E.S. and Carstairs.

During the evening, the Grand Worthy Matron was presented with a suitable gift as a remembrance of her visit.

A delightful supper was served at the end of the session.

Mrs. McGhee entertained at tea on Saturday afternoon in honor of her house-guests: Mrs. Callen, of Edmonton, Mrs. Archie West, of Edmonton, Mrs. J. Johnson, of Edmonton, and Mrs. Shaw, of Jasper Park. Members of the O.E.S. from Carstairs, Didsbury and O.E.S. called.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McGhee, Mrs. W. G. Evans, Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Mrs. D. Edwards and Miss Alice Pearson visited Carstairs Chapter, O.E.S. on Thursday evening for the official visit of the Grand Worthy Matron.

Missionary Meeting.

The members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Evangelical Church conducted a thank-offering service which was held on Sunday evening.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. J. V. Berscht, who also read a paper on missionary work.

Special music was rendered by a ladies choir, and solos were given by Mrs. Powers and Mrs. Wood. A song dialogue was given by Miss Margaret Kender and Mary Wright. Mrs. Gabel contributed a monologue, "The Mile Box."

A missionary dialogue, "June Dream" was a feature. Those who took part were: Mrs. Tom Morris and Misses Lucille Smith, Laura Eisenberg and Edna Thaler.

The ladies of the society delivered their missionary boxes, which together with the offering will be sent to the W.M.S.

Curling Club Meets Rinks Ltd.

The officers of the curling club met with the Rinks Ltd. Monday night to make arrangements for the use of the curling rink this winter.

The Rinks Ltd. agreed to allow the curling club to use the rink providing the club pay $75.00 which is past due, and $75.00 for this year. In addition to which the club must keep the rink in repair.

If these payments are to be met, it will be necessary for the curling club to increase their dues, or dip into the surplus that has accumulated during the last few years.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Mrs. W. G. Evans entertained at bridge last Thursday afternoon.

Red McDougall was a visitor to the Hosgood home on Sunday.

Mrs. E. G. Shaw, of Jasper, Alberta is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McGhee this week.

The Alberta Fish & Game Assn. will hold their 3rd annual convention at the Board of Trade Rooms, Calgary on Friday, Nov. 28th.

The mildness of the fall is evident by the fact that there are still robins in the district. Gabriel Leclair reports having seen one at their place this week.

Saturday night dancing will be inaugurated this Saturday evening, "The Virginians," a peppy dance orchestra from Calgary will supply the music. Admission 25c.

It is reported that Mr. J. McDougall and Dr. Hartman, of O.E.S. were entertained to tea by the ladies of the O.E.S. at Mrs. McGhee's on Saturday.

Mr. Chas. Wrightson shipped a crate of chickens to Calgary last week as a contribution to the Woods Children's Home. The gift was greatly appreciated.

"Finger Points," featuring Richard Barthelmess. At the Opera House Monday and Thursday next. Dick Barthelmess is always popular with Didsbury folk, and this picture is one of his best.

Mrs. Callen, Grand Worthy Matron of the O.E.S., Mr. and Mrs. A. West, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson, all of Edmonton, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McGhee last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Korschul, Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Ad in Korschul and Mrs. C. Korschul were entertained to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Krebs on Sunday.

The A. Leaky sale was one of the most successful sales ever held in the district. There was a large crowd, and the prices obtained exceeded all expectations. Farmers were present from all parts of the district.

Members of the Royal Lodge of Oddfellows, Calgary will pay a formal visit to the Didsbury Lodge on Thursday evening, November 19. A social evening will be spent after the meeting, to which Rebekahs are invited.

Mrs. A. G. Snyder entertained the teachers of the High and Public Schools at dinner and bridge last Wednesday evening in honor of her daughter Winnie's twenty-first birthday. The honors were won by Miss Ruth Eisenberg and Mr. Arthur Reiber. During the evening a lovely birthday gift was presented by the teaching staff.

C.P.R. Will Pick Up And Deliver Express

The Canadian Pacific Express are announcing (to take effect immediately) reduced rates on fruit, vegetables and meat from Calgary to Didsbury, as follows:

Fruit and vegetables, 30 cents per hundred; minimum charge, 40 cents.

Meat and meat products, 35 cents per hundred; minimum charge, 40 cents.

The most important part of the announcement, however, is the fact that all express will be picked up and delivered within the town limits. This service will mean a considerable saving to shippers.

Royal Arch Masons Hold Installation.

There was a large attendance of members and visitors at the installation of officers of the Joseph Staffler of Royal Arch Masons, which was held Wednesday evening last.

There were about twenty-five visitors from Calgary and other chapters, including Rt. Ex. J. V. Pollette, Second Grand Principal for Alberta, and several other grand officers.

The officers were installed by M. Ex. J. A. McGhee, First Grand Principal for Alberta, and Rt. Ex. J. McDougall, Grand Superintendent of District No. 3.

After the meeting, a banquet was served in the basement of the United Church. Mr. J. Munro, of Carstairs acted as toastmaster, and speeches were made by several visiting and local members.

The following officers were installed:

1st Principal: Dr. J. L. Clarke
2nd Principal: Roger Barrett
3rd Principal: R. A. Craig
Scribe: E. J. McDougall
Scribe: M. C. E. Doolley
Treas.: J. A. McGhee
P.S.: H. O. Tomlin
S.S.: P. M. Priest
J.S.: W. G. Eisenberg.

Coming Events

On Friday evening, November 13 a dance will be held in Hamilton Hall. Bellamy Orchestra.

A concert under the auspices of St. Catherine's V.A. will be held in the Opera House on Wednesday evening, November 18th. The program will be given by well known Calgary artists. Admission: 25c. to every body.

Knox United Ladies Aid will hold their bazaar on Saturday, Dec. 5th.

Canadian Legion Attends Remembrance Day Service

The United Church proved to be too small to accommodate the crowd who wished to attend the Remembrance Day service which was held Sunday evening, and a large number were unable to obtain seats.

The local Legion turned out in full force and upwards of 60 war veterans under command of their president, Mr. J. H. Lowrie, paraded to church.

The service was a very impressive one, the chief feature being the poppy-wreath offering to fallen heroes by the local branch of the Legion.

The choir rendered special music, and Mr. J. H. Lowrie sang "Moan Not For Them."

Rev. A. J. Mitchell conducted the service and preached the sermon, his subject being "The Price of Progress is Struggle and Sacrifice."

A Time For Self Control

As Shakespeare once put it, "The times are out of joint." These are troublous days, and days of trouble. Men's nerves are on edge, and little things that would be passed over lightly in good times are every day becoming the cause of quarrels. Because nerves are on edge, tempers are not under control even to the extent they usually are, and in the case of most people tempers are never controlled as they should be.

Today people will argue and dispute about almost anything, and lose their tempers over the most trivial matters which are of no importance whatever. The great Bard of Avon wrote: "Beware of entrance to a quarrel; but, being in, bear it that the opposed may beware of thee." Abraham Lincoln, however, said that while this advice was good, it was not the best, and he substituted: "Quarrel not at all. No man, resolved to make the most of himself, can spare time for personal contention. Still less can he afford to take the consequences, including the vitiation of his temper and the loss of self-control. Yield larger things to which you show no more than equal right; and yield lesser ones through clearly your own. Better give your path to a dog than be bitten by him in contesting for the right. Even killing the dog would not cure the bite."

This is not to say that a man should sacrifice so much as one important conviction, or yield his principles for the sake of peace or profit. There are times when a man should get mad, when we could feel nothing but contempt for him if he did not. But such occasions are few and far between. The trivial, inconsequent thing should never be the cause of dispute or outbreak of temper.

We are reminded of the three-word Latin motto above the doorway of the ancient chamber in the Guildhall in which the aldermen of London held their court and which no one of them can fail to see: "Andi alteram partem." Hear the other side.

And in old England, with its long years of experience in handling human beings of all classes and degrees in all parts of the world, how much wiser than other nations is she in dealing with agitators. The Old Land long ago learned that talk, like any other gas, is dangerous only when compressed. Younger countries, Canada included, has yet to learn that lesson. So we find in London, instead of attempting to suppress the Hyde Park orators, the British authorities supply police protection for them, let them say their say, and do not quarrel with them.

And what is the cause of most misunderstandings, leading to loss of temper and open quarrels? Is it not that in our self-organized state we are wasting our energies and increasing our blood pressure trying, over trivial things, to set somebody else right? Instead of accepting people for what they are, we are forever trying to mold their lives to our preconceived model, endeavoring to organize them. How many married couples live in a state of tension because one or both seek to make the other over. If one the idea could get abroad that the real appeal of the sexes is the fact that they are not alike, what a great gain that would be. And what applies to the sexes applies equally to races, creeds, and other established facts of life.

Let us stop trying to organize the lives of other people, and attend strictly to the task of organizing our own. Let us master the lesson that, after all, there are comparatively few issues in this world worth disputing over. It would, of course, be a sad day for the world if righteous indignation vanished from it, if men became so immersed in the scramble for profit and place of power that they could no longer get mad over palpable wrongs and gross injustices. But the point is that too much of the world's anger is poured out in defence of pride or prejudice instead of conviction.

As one old Roman philosopher said: "Many have suffered for talking; none ever suffered for keeping silent." And, on another occasion, "We cannot be wrong in leaving other people's business alone."

Using Seed Cleaning Units

Saskatchewan Municipalities Taking Advantage Of Outlets Supplied

Several municipalities in Saskatchewan already have made applications to the Field Crop Branch of the Department of Agriculture for seed cleaning units as supplied by the Saskatchewan Government in co-operation with the Dominion Seed Branch. Under this scheme, the Governments furnish the machinery, the municipality being required to provide the motive power and the housing accommodation. All the outlets supplied to date have been of an itinerant nature, and may be transported from farm to farm during the seed cleaning period.

Suffered Severe, Painful Cramps In Her Stomach

Those terrible cramps in the stomach that double you up in pain and make you break out in a cold perspiration, may be stopped by a few doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Mrs. Lloyd Jones, 284 Argyle St., Halifax, N.S., writes: "I have suffered greatly from severe and painful cramps in my stomach. I tried several remedies without result. One day a friend advised me to take Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I bought a bottle and got instant relief."

Sheep Buried In Snow

Found Alive Eight Weeks After South African Storm

Hundreds of South Africans saw a fall of snow for the first time in their lives during a recent heavy storm on Table Mountain and other Cape ranges. While the present season is "winter" on this side of the equator, snow has rarely been seen this far south.

From the interior comes a story of how 15 sheep lived for eight weeks under an avalanche of snow in the Moleno district.

Although completely hemmed in, they managed to keep alive by breathing through the melting snow and eating the grass on the floor of the aperture, as well as snow. When found they were little more than skeletons. They are now recovering.

AS SLIM AS AT 20

Still Fit and Active at 55

"I have been taking the small dose of Knuschen Sals every morning for the last three years. I wouldn't be without them in the house. I used to suffer with constipation and piles, but an never troubled in that way now. I am 55 years, and as slim as when I was 20. I have to work very hard, as I have my family and an invalid father to look after, and I always say it's the Knuschen that keeps me fit."—M. S.

There's nothing like hard work and activity for keeping superfluous fat away. The trouble with most folks is finding the necessary energy. That is where Knuschen comes in.

After you have had your daily supply of Knuschen every morning for a couple of weeks you'll get what is known the world over as "That Knuschen Feeling."

The urge for activity will fill your entire being, you'll not be content to sit in the chair after your day's work is done.

You'll feel the spirit of youth within you—what a joyous feeling—you'll want to take long walks, play games and your work will cease to be a hardship—it will become a pleasure.

Trade and Commerce

Oregon has a buy-at-home campaign and so has the state of Washington. Each is cancelling contracts which have been made across the border. Keep it up. Buy only in your own state, buy only in your own home town, buy only on your own side of the street, buy only from a member of your own family and thus get rich. The whole idea of trade and commerce must, it seems, be old-fashioned and foolish.—Toronto Star.

Exhausted From Asthma. Many who read these words know the horrible pain which comes from asthma, which comes in the train of asthma's troubles. Many do not realize, however, that there is one true remedy which will usually stop this drain. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a scientific cure for this evering ailment. It has a countless record of relief to its credit. It is sold almost everywhere.

Saskatchewan University

Increased Attendance Is Shown For the Current Term

Former students returning to Saskatchewan University brought up the enrollment in the regular classes to 1,043 or 47 less than last year, announces President W. C. Murray. To offset this the number enrolled in the correspondence courses has increased by 97 to 303, giving a net increase of ten students.

The decline is mainly in the college of arts and sciences. The College of Pharmacy shows reduced enrollment, and engineering a considerable increase. The other colleges have about the same numbers as on the corresponding day last year.

City Covers Big Acreage

Regina is one of the largest cities in Canada. It covers 8,408 acres, more than twice as big as many eastern cities of similar or even larger population. Within the confines of Regina are more than 500 acres of civic parks, nearly 100 acres of exhibition grounds, besides a great deal of vacant property. Regina could comfortably accommodate twice its present population without extending the boundaries.

Canada Has Thousands Of Level Crossings

Removal Of All Impossible Says Hon. Frank Oliver

The Dominion at present has some 28,000 level crossings scattered along railways from coast to coast despite expenditure of $15,189,000 over the past 21 years towards elimination and amelioration of this menace to traffic, according to Hon. Frank Oliver, advisory officer to the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, in a paper before the recent convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association at Lucerne-in-Quebec.

In 1930, a total of 341 railway crossing accidents in Canada took a toll of 115 lives and 475 injured. Mr. Oliver stated. Through the efforts of the Board of Railway Commissioners much had been done to improve railway crossing conditions Mr. Oliver continued.

Crossing accidents on provincial highways formed less than one-third of the total for 1930, the great majority of crossing fatalities occurring on country roads.

The annual government grant of $200,000 to the Board for the railway crossing fund was inadequate, the speaker said, and it would be impossible to entirely remove all level crossings in the Dominion.

J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicles of Ontario, said the death rate exceeded three persons a day on Canada's roads. The total of automobile fatalities in the year 1930 was 1,289 and the injured were approximately 40,000.

Kind Words Cost Nothing

There sometimes are excuses to be made for the men and women who are stingy with money, but not for those who are stingy with appreciation. Kind words cost nothing at all; yet some of you are as reluctant to make use of them as any old miser is to part with one of his cherished gold pieces.

No Longer a Bugbear

Britain's Departure From Gold Standard Not Likely To Harm Anybody

The United States owns nearly half the gold supply of the world. At the beginning of the present month, United States-owned gold amounted to $4,983,000,000, a new high record. Yet in the Republic at this very moment, some millions of men, women and children are restlessly wondering how they are going to keep warm and fed this coming winter.

Perhaps the position of the United States has little real relation to the gold standard in Britain, or its departure from it. Yet existing world realities have knocked so many ancient and cherished theories into a cocked hat it will be surprising if what has been done in Britain visits much harm upon anybody. Currency changes, most notably, have not ago ceased to be a bugbear.—Ottawa Journal.

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old short skirts conform to the new length was a problem to me until I hit on this plan. I dropped the hem and as the part that had been turned under was darker than the rest, I redeyed the entire dress, after having bleached the goods, following directions in the Diamond Dyes package."

"I used Diamond Dyes for the redeyeing, of course. I have dyed many things with them and they have saved me many dollars and have never failed to give perfect results—smooth, even colors fast to wear and washing. Friends think my things are new when I redeye or tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors!"

Mrs. G.C., Lewis, Québec.

Similarity Of Names

"SICK HEADACHE?"

It is not necessary to give in to headache for sore throats, galls, rheumatism, callouses and sprains. Removes proud flesh and Hoof Rot. Stops bleeding instantly.

Keep Aspirin handy, and keep your engagements. Headaches, system pains, come at inconvenient times. So do colds. You can end them before they've fully started if you'll only remember this handy, harmless form of relief. Carry it in your purse and insure your comfort while shopping, your evening's pleasure at the theatre. Those little tablets that bring a case of cold "nerves" by day are ended in a jiffy. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking Aspirin! You'll find these tablets always help. In every package of Aspirin tablets are proven directions which cover colds, headaches, sore throat, toothache, neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica, and even rheumatism.

The tablets stamped Bayer won't hurt you, and can't harm you. They don't depress the heart. They don't upset the stomach. So take them when you need them, and take enough to end the pain. Aspirin is made in Canada.

Little Possibility That Gold Mining Will Suffer Through Nations Dropping Gold Standard

"The possibility that the gold mining industry will suffer by reason of the tumultuous changes that have taken place in the world's financial relationships, is extremely remote," declared Hon. Charles McCrear, Ontario Minister of Mines, in a statement at Toronto.

"Instead of gold bullion becoming less valuable, it would appear to be more desirable than ever," the Minister's statement continued. "Great Britain and other countries which have taken action which is described as going off the gold standard, have actually taken steps to permit further loss of the precious metal and are endeavouring to restore their former reserves. There seems little danger of United States, with five billion dollars' worth, or France, with another huge total, doing, or permitting anything which would lessen the worth of their enormous holdings, such as sanctioning any scheme of demonetization.

"Nor is it likely that the British Empire, which produces three-quarters of the world's gold, and possesses billions of dollars worth of ore, will propose anything which will diminish the value of these great resources.

"Both United States and Great Britain have been off the gold standard in previous times of stress, yet gold has never lost its desirability nor its usefulness. There is nothing in the situation which should discourage prospectors in their search for new discoveries, nor cause gold miners to restrict their activities.

"On the contrary, we will likely find that both activities will be accelerated. The exchange premium represents just so much extra profit for the gold mines and Ottawa authorities agree that the mines are entitled to any profit they could by selling their gold outside Canada, just as are the producers of paper, wheat, or any other exportable material."

Dark Skin Resists Sunlight

Does Not Let Beneficial Rays Through Physician Finds

The darker the colour of the skin the less it is affected by sunlight. Tests with half-breed and full-blooded Indians show convincingly that the greater the amount of black and red in untanned skin the less is the change in colour from exposure. Dr. Forest Clements of the University of Oklahoma, reports in the Journal of Physical Anthropology. The heavier pigment, he holds, serves as a partial insulation from sun rays. This may explain, he holds, why negro and Italian children have been found more subject to rickets than those of lighter races even when the diet and environment are essentially the same. The pigment produced by exposure probably differs from that in unexposed skin and forms a storchouse for the anti-rachitic vitamin. Darker skins do not let the beneficial rays through. Dr. Clements found, however, that red skin changes less than black from exposure.

Silver Mining In Canada

Silver mining in Canada is not a distinct mining industry as silver generally occurs with other metals; with lead and zinc; with cobalt, nickel and arsenic; with bode and placer gold; in copper-gold ores and in nickel-copper ores. Silver in lead and zinc ores and in cobalt-nickel-arsenic ores is usually the predominating factor in determining the marketability of such ores.

Old Harvest Ceremonies

Strange Practices In West Of England Half Century Ago

Many old customs connected with the gathering in of the harvest have been dead these fifty years and more. When the grain was ready for cutting in the olden days in the West of England, all kinds of strange practices were resorted to in order to scare the witches away, and a belief existed that the last wisp of corn in the harvest field was inhabited by the sacred horse. A horse representing the grain god would be eaten with special rites by the reapers at the harvest supper. There was also "crying the mare," the reapers trying to get the tops of the last standing blades of corn in a field, "the mare," and making this a target for their missiles. The man who cut the mare down had the prize, and the "mare" would be sent in by a fleet-footed messenger to the next farmer who had not respected his corn, emblem at once of a brag and a taunt.

Saskatchewan Potatoes

Average Yield In North Running At 150 Bushels To The Acre

Never in the history of Saskatchewan has there been such an exodus of potatoes from the northern part of the province as will take place shortly if plans of the Saskatchewan Relief Commission run according to schedule. Over a hundred carloads will roll southwards for the relief of the dried out areas and never before have Saskatchewan farmers had such an opportunity to show the whole world, the retailer, and the consumer that this province can produce potatoes of high standard, and in quantities sufficient to meet home needs.

The average yield is running at 150 bushels, the acre Representatives of the market's branch are holding grading demonstrations daily in those areas in the north where potatoes are grown to any appreciable extent and it is interesting to learn that points as far northwest as Nipawin, and Edam and Frenchman Butte in the northwest are ready to ship a number of cars of potatoes forthwith. Grading demonstrations have been held at Salvador, Traynor, Senlac, Glenhush, Fairview, Fording, Forden, Hamblin, Birch Hills and Prince Albert. At several points potato growers' associations have been formed.

Finishing Hogs

Practice Of Selling Light Weight Unfinished Hogs Very Unprofitable

In a review of the hog market situation as it exists at the present time A. A. MacMillan, Chief of the Sheep and Swine Division, Dominion Live Stock Branch, states that there is no justification for the practice which has been too general this season of trying to beat the market by selling off light-weight unfinished hogs to gain a few cents per pound at current prices. As he sees it, the principal effect of such practices has been to demoralize the market and force prices much below what they otherwise might be.

With Canadian hog prices drastically reined in to suit domestic conditions and export market prices with the common sense practice to use at the present time, according to Mr. MacMillan, is to finish hogs up to the proper market weight, around 200 pounds. This he believes is the one effective way in which to develop a "steady" hog market, to regularize marketings, and at the same time to improve quality.

Potatoes Cultivated By Missionaries Save Lives Of Millions Of Chinese

Twenty-five years ago a handful of potatoes was sent from the United States to China. The missionaries propagated them in their remote corner of China along the Tibet border and during the last three years of famine descendants of the original potatoes have saved the lives of more than a million Chinese.

When the first Americans and Europeans penetrated the Kansu Province and established mission stations in Taichow (Old City), some years ago, they found a native Chinese potato which was small, poor, and had a very low food value. The natives of the district, with little regard for the future, had been in the habit each year of eating the best of the crop and saving the poorest potatoes for seed.

Four Early Rose potatoes were sent from Tennessee, and these were planted in 1897, two in Taichow, and two in Minchow. They grew very well and produced many tubers of fine quality in Chinese soil.

In a few years the new variety spread to several counties of the province, which had a total population of 10,000,000 people. But the Boxer Rebellion resulted in a recall of all the Christians from the district, and while they were away the Chinese fell back into their old habit of eating all the best, and also of allowing the new variety to become mixed with the diseased older type of potato.

The potatoes had become so poor when missionaries were again allowed in the country that they had to re-introduce them. The variety chosen was the Green Mountain which was planted in 1903.

The experience of Chinese planters with the other variety helped to speed the distribution of the Green Mountain tubers, which quickly supplanted both the native and the Early Rose types.

In the three years' famine since 1928, one of the worst famines the world has ever known, almost half the population of Kansu, and also of the Province of Shensi, to the east, have died. But where the Green Mountain potato was cultivated the larger part of the population has been able to subsist. It has been estimated that fully a million people have been living by eating these potatoes.

An authority on table etiquette says: "Never break your crackers or roll in your soup." Well, who ever really wanted to roll in their soup, anyway?

EXPERTS MEET AT ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE

The press photographer shot this picture as the Indian and British delegates to the Round Table Conference, London, England, following the Federal Structure Meeting. The gentlemen on the left is the Maharajah of Burdwan, while on the right is Lord Reading, British Foreign Minister, and former Viceroy of India.

In order to clear up any possible misunderstanding in relation to policies now in effect, Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, has authorized a statement with reference to freight-rate concessions or other forms of assistance to farmers in eastern and western Canada on purchases of feeder cattle.

Assistance to the movement of cattle between local points in western Canada is a 50 per cent. reduction in normal carload freight rates on feeder cattle. This reduction has been authorized by the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to facilitate the direct purchase of cattle as between producer and feeder for fattening and reshipment.

The rate decrease is not available on purchases from stock yards. When cattle shipped to the feeder are fattened and ready for reshipment, the normal freight rates will apply to all points of destination in Canada.

With respect to the movement of western cattle fed for export in eastern Canada, this policy allows a reduction of 50 per cent. in normal freight rates on cattle shipped from any point east of Fort William to the seaboard for export. Provided such cattle were purchased in western Canada after June 30, 1931. This policy is in operation until December 30, 1931.

Under the policy of assistance to Canadian cattle feeders in purchasing western cattle, the prospective purchaser in eastern Canada is entitled to one-way travelling expenses. This includes railway fare, berth and reasonable living allowance en route, to purchase carload shipments from western stock yards, western feeder shows, or in the case of purchases from ranches, to the stock yards nearest thereto.

The prospective feeder residing in western Canada is entitled to the foregoing privileges on carloads of feeder cattle purchased at his nearest stockyards, or at a feeder show in the western provinces.

The British Columbia feeder is required to make his purchases of cattle under this policy at western stockyards at which a feeder sale is being held, or direct from ranches in British Columbia.

In all cases, cattle purchased under this policy of assistance to Canadian cattle feeders in purchasing western cattle are subject to regular freight rates, and the policy is in effect for five months commencing August, 1931.

All the policies mentioned relate specifically to the purchase of feeder stock. In addition to these, there are two other policies relating to the movement of females for breeding purposes.

A freight policy is in effect on approved breeders. Purchasers of breeders for breeding purposes may be made in any central stockyards in western Canada for shipment to any country point west of Fort William. Twenty-five per cent. of the rate is rebatable by the railway company, and the other 75 per cent. is rebatable by the Dominion Livestock Branch.

A transportation policy on approved purebred females of beef or dairy breeds is in operation. This policy allows for free freight on carloads of approved purebred females from any railway point of loading in Canada, including points in the prairie provinces, to any other railway point in the prairie provinces, after having passed tuberculin and blood tests.

What About Telephones?

The Cardston News contributes a few thoughts on telephone conditions prevailing throughout the province. The answer to the number of telephones being taken out is, in the opinion of the Cardston paper, a reduction in telephone rates.

These arguments are worthy of consideration:

"The hello girl at Cardston's central told us during the day's calling, 'that phone has been taken out,' at least six times. That was since the first of October. Apparently, people in town have discovered that it costs too much to talk over the phone. And it does. The telephone 'stiff' is kile, as compared with normal times, and the first thing we know, there is going to be some more unemployment, for half the staff will have to be laid off.

"Why would it not be better for the Alberta government to reduce the cost of the telephone service in keeping with the reduction of all other goods and service, and specially in keeping with the prices obtained for farm produce in this, an agricultural district, than to add to the unemployment which already exists?

"Telephone rental costs have been too high, and have not come down along with other prices. People want the telephone service, and would keep their phones installed if the price was reasonable. Better for government revenue to get half-price for double the number of users than to keep on charging the hell of that number increased rates to make the business pay.

"Surely the Alberta government can see this point, and instead of increasing the costs to the few, and at the same time increasing the unemployment, reduce the costs to all, take up a campaign for everybody to use the telephone, just as they do to advertise for the use of the long-distance phone, and at the same time have reduced the costs of this long-distance service in keeping with the patronage they obtain.

"Telephone service, like every other service, ought to be on a volume basis, and the greater the number of phones, the lesser the individual costs, possibly not in the direct ratio, but at least in proportion with the other fixed costs involved."

The Canadian Farm Loan Act.

ARTICLE No. 2

In my former article I outlined the need of the Alberta farmer for an up-to-date system of financing. In this article I intend to discuss the purpose for which the Canadian Farm Loan Act was passed, and the financial advantages that accrue to the borrower under it as compared with our present system.

The purposes for which loans may be granted are: to purchase farm lands, the necessary fertilizers, seed, livestock or other equipment for the proper operation of the lands; mortgaged; to erect buildings or make other permanent improvements on said lands, or to discharge present liabilities.

No loan will be advanced for over $10,000. No loan will be made in excess of 50 per cent. of the Board's appraised value of the land for agricultural purposes and not in excess of twenty per cent. of the value of the fully-insured improvements thereon. Four plans of repayment are provided. I will deal with each of these and compare it with an ordinary 8 per cent. mortgage for the same period, to show the saving that accrues to the borrower under the Act. I do not think that money can be obtained here on farm mortgages for less than 8 per cent. The rate charged by the Board is only 6 1/2 per cent.

PLAN 1: Farm Board mortgage for, say $1,000 for 25 years. This will be repayable in 22 annual payments of blended principal and interest of $85.00 each, and a final payment of $83.10. The total amount repaid by the borrower under this plan will be $1953.10. An ordinary 8 per cent. mortgage for the same amount and time will be $1840.00 in interest in addition to the principal which will have to be paid at the end of the term. Therefore the total amount repaid by the borrower will be $2840.00. Under this plan the Farm Loan Act will therefore save the borrower $886.90 for every $1,000 borrowed.

PLAN 2: Farm Board mortgage for $1,000 for 25 years may be repaid under this plan in 41 semi-annual instalments of $42.50 each, and a final payment of $52.50. Under this plan, the total amount repaid by the borrower will be $1922.50, which represents a saving of $917.50 on every $1,000 borrowed, as compared with an ordinary 8 per cent. mortgage for the same period.

PLAN 3: Farm Board mortgage $1,000 for 32 years may be repaid under this plan in 31 annual instalments of $75 each and a final payment of $74.70. The total amount repaid by the borrower under the plan is $2394.70. The cost of an ordinary mortgage at 8 per cent. for the same time and amount would be $3560.00, representing a saving to the borrower under the Act of $1165.30.

PLAN 4: Farm Board mortgage for $1,000 for 32 years may be repaid under this plan in 63 semi-annual instalments of $37.50 each. The total amount paid to the Board by the borrower will be $2362.50, representing a saving of $1197.50 on every $1,000 borrowed.

These comparisons should demonstrate the tremendous financial saving that accrues to a borrower under the Act, as well as the ease of repayment.

"It's not so much the captain as the chief engineer who makes speed records possible at sea," Captain Samuel Robinson, of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, told the Vancouver Board of Trade recently, at a luncheon in his honor, after his ship had clipped another seven hours from her previous speed record across the Pacific. She had averaged 22.27 knots over the 4800-mile course from Yokohama to Victoria, a speed hitherto unheard of.

Largest and most powerful locomotive of its kind in the world and unique on this continent, Canadian Pacific Railway "8000" type engine, product of Canadian brains and skill and composed largely of Canadian materials, has just been turned out by the Angus Shops of the company at Montreal, for use in the railway's Rocky Mountain territory. Engine and tender weigh together 325 1/2 tons and it has a tractive effort of 50,000 lbs., sufficient to pull a mile-long freight train of 150 forty-ton trucks, weighing 6,000 tons, on a level track. Retirement Closes 53 Years' Service

Over 53 years ago, a 14-year-old boy joined the old Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway, as an apprentice in the Motive Power Department. Today, the retirement of Robert Preston, superintendent of motive power, Eastern Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, closes a career which is something of an epic in the history of Canadian railroading and has extended from one ocean to the other in many important appointments. Starting his actual service with the C. P. R. as soon as the T. G. and B. was taken over by the great Canadian system, then in its own infancy. Mr. Preston, from machinist in 1884, served in various parts of the Dominion, successively, as locomotive foreman; master mechanic and superintendent of motive power on both Western and Eastern Lines. He intends to make his home in Toronto, where he is well known and has many years of his long service.

He is succeeded by George Whiteley, who has been his assistant since 1915 and also has a long record in the service of the company, having started as fireman, at Fort William, Ont., in 1902. His employment in various posts of the Motive Power Department, however, has taken him all over the Territories and Eastern Canada. The post of assistant superintendent of motive power on Eastern Lines will be filled by Alexander Peers, who leaves his appointment as master mechanic of the British Columbia

District to come to Montreal for his first experience of service in the East. He joined up as a machinist in the Winnipeg Shops in 1909, and his various posts, hitherto, have all been West of Fort William. 630

Big Game Hunters Bring Back Trophies

Sunday Schools Convene At Knox United Church

The annual Sunday school institute of the Red Deer Presbytery was held at Knox United Church, Didsbury Wednesday last.

Rev. A. J. Mitchell opened the convention with a short devotional service, and for the next two hours, addresses were heard from Rev. E. Miller, Bowden; Rev. E. Foster, Aldridge, and Mrs. C. C. (Dr.) Hartman, Olds.

Delegates and teachers held a round-table conference later, and were served dinner by Knox United Ladies Aid.

A public meeting in the evening was in charge of Rev. Young, Crossfield. Rev. Armstrong, Olds conducted the service.

Rev. R. W. Hibbert, secretary of the religious educational council of Alberta gave an illustrated lecture which was keenly enjoyed.

FARM MANAGER

A. J. Clark, farm manager, in Melita, Manitoba zone.

Farm Management Program

Colonization Finance Corporation of Canada, Limited, Operating in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan. With the appointment of A. J. Clark to the position of farm manager in the Melita, Manitoba zone, the Colonization Finance Corporation of Canada, Limited, completes its farm management programme in the province of Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan. More than 400 farms in this area are now under expert management and cover an agricultural district approximately 170,000 acres.

Mr. Clark, who was born in Montreal, came to Manitoba as a child with his parents. His natural attitude for agriculture took him to the Manitoba Agricultural College from which he was graduated in 1917, with honours in animal husbandry. He shortly became attached to the livestock branch of the Saskatchewan Government, where he remained as purchasing agent until 1926, his duties taking him not only over western Canada but through both Ontario and Quebec. Since 1926 he has been on his own farm at Stonewall, Man., where he has specialized in pure bred shorthorn cattle and Yorkshire swine.

With Frank W. Reimold as chief farm manager, the following six have been stationed by the Colonization Finance Corporation, Mr. Clark taking over his new duties immediately: Russell W. Govland, Winnipeg zone; H. J. Siemens, Brandon; A. R. Just, Dauphin; W. J. McLeod, Moosomin; A. J. Clark, Melita; and George H. Jones, Portage la Prairie.

Bees Swarm In London

Three Swarms Invaded Busy Metropolitan In One Day

Each summer a swarm of bees is sure to take possession of the busy street of some city, but it is not often that three swarms arrive on the same day. That, however, happened to London.

One swarm chose King Street, Battersea, and flew round buses and street cars in clouds before settling on a tree; the police taking charge of the tree and barricading it. The second swarm chose the roof of a house in Shepherd's Bush; and the third chose the window-sill of a flat in Highbury.

Canada's Oldest Tunnel

The Canadian Pacific Railway tunnel under the Town of Brockville, Ontario, was opened Sept. 16, 1854, 77 years ago. At that time the tunnel, built under great difficulties, was owned and operated by the Brockville and Ottawa Railway, later absorbed by the Canadian Central Railway, and finally by the Canadian Pacific. It is said to be the oldest railway tunnel in the Dominion, and trains still pass through it daily.

Aerial Photography

Speed and Vibration Make Fast Lens A Necessity

In the camera equipment for aerial mapping operations as carried on by the Topographical Survey of the Department of the Interior through the cooperation of the Royal Canadian Air Force, a fast lens must be employed, as not only must the speed of the aeroplane be taken into account, but also any vibration that may occur to the camera which its mounting in the plane does not eliminate. As a general practice, lenses working at a maximum aperture equal to one-quarter of its focal length, are employed. Lenses of this speed and having a fairly large covering power are now obtainable. To further speed up the action of obtaining the aerial photographic record, the emulsion with which the photographic film is coated, is especially prepared by the manufacturers so as to be supersensitized to the image-forming rays of light.

Trappers Go North

Belief Expressed That Coming Season Will Be Good For Beaver

Manitoba trappers are leaving for the north in large numbers to prepare for the winter season.

Many have gone up along the Bay coast, while others will be confining their work to the inland areas. White, red, silver and cross fox will in most cases be sought by the men, while wolf, mink, otter, marten and beaver will, according to indications, be sought in lesser quantities. A considerable number of trappers are located in the James Bay coastal regions, some in the neighborhood of Severn and York Factory.

According to indications, the men say the coming season will be good for beaver.

To Solve World Troubles

Noted British Author Says World Should Be Declared Bankrupt

H. G. Wells, noted British author, has formulated the following prescription for the ills of the world.

"The world should be declared bankrupt and its debts written down."

The issuance of money should be restricted to one central world authority.

War should be abolished and all foreign offices, diplomatic services, armaments, dockyards, war offices, navies and air-forces scrapped, disbanded and pensioned.

The earth should be ruled by a dictatorship, led by this man or that man, but of informed and educated common sense.

"Husbands," said an old Scottish woman, "are verra like teeth. They're mighty hard to get, and they're a deal o' trouble all the time ye have them, but they leave an awful blank ahint them when they're gone."

The ADVENTURES OF CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE

WHAT? CAPTAIN JIMMY?—Late one afternoon while on board the freighter "Madras" in the Chinese sea, Captain Jimmy and his friends sight a small ship firing on a little vessel. They were off the coast of their home.

As we drew nearer, through the twilight, while on board the freighter, we saw the guns of the small ship firing every minute. Our own guns were silent, and the scene of battle at a tremendous rate.

Suddenly the firing seemed to cease. A black shot must have crippled the ship, for the pirates were silent. Quarter of eight, and we moved down to get a better view of what was taking place.

A little ship lay with a heavy list to starboard, evidently having been hit by the water line. A large Chinese junk was fired behind and a beam of light from the pirates shined all over the freighter vessel.

We could see the lights of the Chinese junk were on fire, and how the Chinese junk was on fire, and how the Chinese junk was on fire, and how the Chinese junk was on fire.

Almost half a mile away, I turned to the attack again. Suddenly I saw a small boat, and it would seem the Chinese junk was on fire, and how the Chinese junk was on fire, and how the Chinese junk was on fire.

My Float Domestic Loan

Remember That Loan May Be Floating Within Next Few Months

A despatch from Ottawa to the Montreal Star says:

"A domestic loan in Canada looms up as probable within a few months."

Conditions for borrowing in the United States if such were the purpose, are not propitious and, in any event, plenty of funds will be available in Canada without encountering the adversities of exchange.

"Any loan which is floated would be primarily to bear the cost of those undertakings designed for the relief of unemployment, but it could be applied to other purposes as well, and probably would be."

"The amount of flotation will be determined in the light of final estimates of requirements, but general revenue conditions clearly suggest that it will be fairly bulky."

Motor Vehicles In Canada

There were 1,238,896 motor vehicles registered in Canada at the end of 1930, an increase of 44,249 over the total registration at December 31, 1929.

The "automobile density" of Canada is one motor vehicle for every eight persons in the Dominion.

Have been a fearful sight to see a "dread" looking ship, speed straight at you. In the bow of the junk stood a group of pirates—some of them, "Bang! Bang!" roared the heavy shot gun, and the small ship was hit. "Bang! Bang!" roared the heavy shot gun, and the small ship was hit. "Bang! Bang!" roared the heavy shot gun, and the small ship was hit.

"Then, looking up, he caught sight of a heavy ship like a great iron of war, just as a charge of black powder moved forward on the deck. With a yell he let go the wheel and fled, and the great ship moved a strong gun of wood, heeled the junk over on her side. The big ship was on her, and seemed to be on her side."

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

"I fear I seem intrusive. But I am so interested in your future—I have taken a great fancy to you, mademoiselle. That must be my excuse." She rose from the table, adding smilingly: "At least you will not find it dull, since Lady Anne has two sons. They will be companions for you."

Jean rose, too, and together they passed out of the salle a manger. "And what do you propose to do with yourself today?" asked the Countess, pausing in the hall. "My husband and I are going for a sleigh drive. Would you care to come with us? We should be delighted."

Jean shook her head. "It's very kind of you. But I should really like to try my luck on the ice. I haven't skated for some years, and as I feel a trifle shaky about beginning again, Monsieur Griolet, who directs the sports, has promised to coach me up a bit some time this morning."

"Bon!" Madame de Varigny nodded pleasantly. "You will be well occupied while we are away. Au revoir, then, till our return. Perhaps we shall walk down to the rink later to witness your progress under Monsieur Griolet's instruction."

4 MORE ACTIVE DAYS

It's Always a "TRYING TIME"

YOU don't have to be polite with your mother. She understands. This is always a "trying time." But there's no excuse for needless suffering.

Watch the calendar... and a few days before... start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It keeps you up... calms your nerves... makes you feel so much better.

Just ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's new tablets... at any drug store. Buy them without conversation or embarrassment.

W. N. U. 1911

She smiled mischievously, the smile irradiating her face with the smile of charm. Jean felt as though, for a moment, she had glimpsed the woman the Countess might have been but for some happening in her life which had soured and embittered it, setting that strange implacability within the liquid depths of her soft, southern eyes.

She was still speculating on Madame de Varigny's curious personality as she made her way along the beaten track that led towards the rink, and then, as a sudden turn of the way brought the sheet of ice suddenly into full view, all thoughts concerning the bunch of contradictions that goes to make up individual character were swept out of her mind.

In the glory of the morning sunlight the stretch of frozen water gleamed like a shield of burnished silver, whilst on its further side rose great pine-woods, mysteriously dark and silent, climbing the steeply rising ground towards the mountains.

There were a number of people skating, and Jean discovered Monsieur Griolet in the distance, supervising the practice of a pretty American girl who was cutting figures with an ease and exquisite balance of little body that hardly seemed to stand in need of the instructions he poured forth so volubly. Probably, Jean decided, the American had entered for some match and was being coached up to concert pitch accordingly.

She stood for a little time watching with interest the varied performances of the skaters. Bands of light-skirted folk, indulging in the sport just for the sheer enjoyment of it, sped gayly, broken snatches of their talk and laughter drifting back to her as they passed, whilst groups of more accomplished skaters performed intricate evolutions with an earnestness and intensity of purpose almost worthy of a better cause.

Jean felt a little stranded and forlorn. She would have liked someone to share her enthusiasm for the marvels achieved by the figure-skaters, and to laugh with her a little at their deadly seriousness and at the scraps of heated argument anent the various schools of technique which came to her, borne on the still, clear air.

Presently her attention was attracted by the solitary figure of a man who swept past her in the course of making a complete circle of the rink. He skimmed the ice with the free assurance of an expert, and as he passed, Jean caught a fleeting glimpse of a supple, sinewy figure, and of a lean, dark face, down-bent, with a cap crammed low on to the somewhat scowling brows.

There was something curiously distinctive about the man. Brief as was her vision of him, it possessed an odd definiteness—a vividness of impression that was rather startling.

He flashed by, his arms' folded across his chest, moving with long, rhythmic strokes which soon carried him to the further side of the rink. Jean's eyes followed him interestedly. He was unmistakably an Englishman, and he seemed to be as solitary as himself, but, unlike her, he appeared indifferent to the fact, absorbed in his own thoughts which, to judge by the stilted, brooding expression of his face, were not particularly pleasant ones.

Soon she lost sight of him amid the scattered groups of smoothly gliding figures. The scene reminded her of a cinema show. People darted suddenly into the picture, materializing in full detail in the space of a moment, then rushed out of it again, dwindling into insignificant black dots which merged themselves into the continuously shifting, throng beyond.

At last she bent her steps towards the lower end of the rink, by common consent reserved for beginners in the art of skating. She had not skated for several years, owing to a severe strain which had left her with a weak ankle, and she felt somewhat nervous about starting again.

Rather slowly she fastened on her skates and ventured tentatively on to the ice. For a few minutes she suffered from a devastating feeling that her legs didn't belong to her, and wished heartily that she had never quitted the safe security of the bank, but before long her confidence returned, and with it that feeling of ease of balance which, once acquired, is never really lost.

It is a short time she was thoroughly enjoying the rapid, effortless motion, and felt herself equal to steering a safe course beyond the narrow limits of the "Maga Corner," as the portion of the ice allotted to novices was usually dubbed.

She stuck out for the middle of the rink, gradually increasing her speed and reveling in the sting of the keen, cold air against her face. Then, all at once, it seemed as though the solid surface gave way beneath her foot. She lurched forward, flung violently off her balance, and in the same moment the sharp clink of metal upon the ice betrayed the cause. One of her skates insecurely fastened, had come off.

She staggered wildly, and in another instant would have fallen had not someone, swift as a shadow, glided suddenly abreast of her and, slipping a supporting arm round her waist, skated smoothly beside her, little by little slackening their mutual pace until Jean, on one blade all this time, could stop without danger of falling.

As they glided to a standstill, she turned to offer her thanks and found herself looking straight into the lean, dark face of the Englishman who had passed her when she had been watching the skaters.

He lifted his cap, and as he stood for a moment bareheaded beside her, she noticed with a curious little shock that on the left temple his dark brown hair was streaked with a single pure white lock, as though a finger had been laid upon the hair and bleached it where it lay. It conformed to a certain air of distinction—an added value of contrast—just as the sharp black shadow in a neutral-tinted picture gives sudden significance to the whole composition.

The stranger was regarding Jean with a flicker of amusement in his grey eyes.

"That was a near thing!" he observed.

Evidently he judged her to be a Frenchwoman, for he spoke in French—very fluently, but with an unmistakably English accent. Instinctively Jean, who all her life had been as frequently called upon to converse in French as English, responded in the same language.

She was breathing rather quickly, a little shaken by the suddenness of the incident, and his face took on a shade of concern.

"You're not hurt, I hope? Did you twist your ankle?"

"No, oh, no," she smiled up at him. "I can't have fastened my skate on properly, and when it shot off like that I'm afraid I rather lost my head. You see?" she asked anxiously. "I haven't skated for some years, and I was never very proficient."

"I see," he said gravely. "It was a little rash of you to start again quite alone, wasn't it?"

"I suppose it was. However, as you luckily happened to be there to save me from the consequences, no harm is done. Thank you so much."

There was a note of dismissal in his voice, but apparently he failed to notice it, for he held out his hands to her, crosswise, saying:

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and discomfort, and is often followed by constipation. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume of acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth. (Made in Canada.)

Serious Rectal Troubles Often Caused By Harsh Cathartics

ENO'S is pleasant, gentle, safe and sure.

A daily dash of ENO'S "Fruit Salt" in a glass of water, morning or night, tones up and sweetens the entire system. Acid stomach, fatigue, biliousness, quickly disappear.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

"Let me help you to the bank, and then I'll retrieve your errant skate for you."

He so evidently expected her to comply with his suggestion that, almost without her own volition, she found herself moving with him towards the edge of the rink, her hands grasped in a close, steady clasp, and a moment later she was scrambling up the bank. Once more on level ground, she made a movement to withdraw her hand.

"I can manage quite well now," she said rather nervously. There was something in that strong, firm grip of his which sent a curious tremor of consciousness through her.

Patient Was Hypnotized

Introducing New Method Of Painless Dental Operation

The Brooklyn Eagle has reported a bloodless and painless dental operation with hypnotism replacing anæsthetic. The paper said the experiment was witnessed by its own science editor in the offices of Dr. A. J. Bruchlacher, Brooklyn dentist.

Walter L. Orton, mechanical engineer and vice-president of the Brooklyn Psychic Research society, kept a woman whose name was given only as "Miss M. C." under hypnotic influence for 15 minutes, the paper said, while Dr. Bruchlacher extracted a tooth, made an incision in a gum and cut away a growth of bone.

As a verminiferous an effective preparation is Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator, and it can be given to the most delicate child without fear of injury to the constitution.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

—By Aline Michaelis—

BY TIME UNSTAINED

This is the greatest love, the love that lives Unchanged by changing time and circumstance.

That still a portion of its glamour gives

To touch with peace each whim of madcap Chance.

It lends to life's adventure, strange and long,

Always a blessing by naught else conferred;

It is the sweetness lingering after song.

The hidden meaning of the spoken word.

No part in it have years, for it may be

The treasure of the heart from youth to age.

Or but an hour's sudden ecstasy.

Obtattered by life's turning page.

The fate ideal, desired and unattained.

This is the only love by time unstained.

Moon Erratic In Its Course

The moon is so erratic, scientists say, that its position cannot be determined as exactly as that of stars. That is, it is never where it should be in its theoretical orbit, and what is strange, it is the only body known to disobey such laws.

In an effort to solve the mystery, computers of the naval almanac office are making a two-year check on the occultations of stars by the moon.

Little Helps For This Week

"Trust in Him at all times."—Psalm lxi, 8.

I know not what my life shall hold Of love or light. Only that, safe within the fold It shall be right;

I only seek to find the ways His feet have pressed;

And feel through fair or darker days He knoweth best.

—M.M.B.

Whatever our needs, He can supply them, for He is God. He will supply them, for He is love. Only let us believe, and our joy and blessedness shall be full. Let us honour God by trusting Him entirely. Let us be as willing to receive as He is to bestow. —Thorold.

Idea Claimed For Chinese

Antiquarians Say They Were Inventors Of Ink and Fountain Pens. The idea of a fountain pen goes a very long way back, and no one man can be considered its inventor. Certainly a crude fountain pen was in use in England in the seventeenth century, but antiquarians go back a good deal further than that in their history. It is claimed that the idea was Chinese—they were the inventors of ink—and fountain pens were in use in China hundreds of years before the Christian era began.

Mountain View Notes

Miss Doris Brown spent the week-end in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Findley were recent visitors to the southern city.

Mrs. J. Bussey, of Calgary was a recent visitor to Calgary.

Mr. Walter Kitcher spent two days in the district last week.

Mrs. R. Findley spent last week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Findley.

Armistice Day has passed, and we are pleased to see that the gov't. have set aside this day as an official dominion holiday. It is the least they could do to honor the men who nobly gave their lives and who lie "in Flanders fields."

We hear that Misses Harold Tighe and Ellis Barnes are away hunting. We hope they return with something worth while, as one of the wives' most strenuous coach in fitting out her husband in the regular on hunting regulars.

The Haines family expect to leave shortly to spend the winter on their farm near White Bl. Alberta. They will return here in the spring. Mrs. Haines has been treasurer of the local W.L. for some time, and her absence will be felt, though it is only temporary.

A hearty invitation is extended to everybody to attend the W.L. bazaar, which will be held in the Community Hall tomorrow night (Friday). We see by our local paper that one branch of the W.L. west of town raised the colossal sum of $5000. The ladies here are looking forward to raising a similar sum.

A meeting was held at Community Hall Saturday, October 31st, for the purpose of organizing a junior branch of the W.L. Mrs. Hessegood, constituency convenor was present, and the following officers were elected: President, Miss J. Wilson; Vice-president, S. M. Hill; Sec. Treas., Miss N. Findley. Mrs. B. A. Atkinson was asked to be supervisor of the club. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss N. Findley the first Friday in December at 8 p.m. It is hoped the girls will rally and make a success of their club, and benefit by their attendance at same.

RUGBY NOTES

The W.L. met at the home of Mrs. Summers, with an attendance of sixteen members and four visitors. When business was finished, Mrs. A. C. Wall took up the current events. The topic of the day was "Legislation," given by the legislation convenor. The afternoon ended with a contest along legislative lines, the winners being Mrs. J. Clarke and Mrs. A. Hogg. The meeting then adjourned and lunch was served. Members will please remember that next month is the annual business meeting and election of officers, etc. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Krebs.

Burnside Notes

Mr. Kenneth Burns spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Elliott and family have moved on to the Alex. family place.

Misses Dorothy and Leita Cipperey and Cecil and Fred Cipperey were Calgary visitors Saturday last.

Messrs. Geo. and Wm. Saunders were business visitors to Calgary last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Grandwater at Acme.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waterbottom of Carstairs and Mr. Walter Edmondson of Carstairs were Sunday visitors with Mr. H. A. Pearson.

Miss Ellen Cottonch arrived on Sunday from B.C. and will spend some time visiting relatives in this district.

LOCAL & GENERAL

C.G.L.T. Concert, Dec. 8th.

Mr. Geo. Haug, of Carstairs was a business visitor to town Monday.

The Bishop of Calgary will visit St. Cyprian's Anglican Church on Sunday morning at 11 a.m. for the Celebration of Holy Communion.

Mrs. J. E. Hugg entertained the magazine club at three tables of bridge last Saturday evening. Mrs. J. A. Mathison had the high score, winning a lovely cup and saucer.

"Caught Cheating," another of the great comedies by Geo. Sully and Charlie Murray at the Opera House tonight (Thursday). Thrills, love and laughter.

The pastor's sermon Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Bethel Evangelical Church at Westcott will be: "The Narrow Gate." There will also be a Sunday morning service at 10:30. This will be the closing service of the evangelistic services now being held there.

The Sunday morning service at 10:30 in Zion Evangelical Church will be under the auspices of the men of the church and there will also be a men's choir. Rev. F. S. Spies will preach the sermon. In the evening the pastor will preach on subject being: "The Power of the Gospel."

The sale of poppies last Saturday proved to be very successful and the secretary of the local branch of the Canadian Legion reports that about 150 large and small poppies were sold and about 20 wreaths disposed of. The officers and members wish to thank the public of Didsbury and district for their splendid support.

Little Bobby McInerney made a splendid saucer and turned in $4.60 from his poppy sales.

On Remembrance Day, the two groups of C.G.L.T.s and T.S.s. boys rose early and hiked to "The Rocks" where they held a sunrise service, the theme of which was "World Peace." They also took a pledge to do all in their power to maintain peace. After the service, breakfast was served and games played. They all declared this to be one of their most enjoyable hikes.

The Trail Ranger Boys under the leadership of Ormond Phillipson, held their first hike of the season on Wednesday afternoon. The hike took the form of a treasure-hunt, and the various clues led them to "Rangers' Look-out," two miles north of town. Bill Ranton's team were the first to find the treasure. The boys enjoyed a winter roast and played games until dusk.

AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Definite, decisive and authoritative

It has come to the attention of the Alberta Wheat Pool that opponents are persistently repeating that those who deliver grain to Alberta Wheat Pool or Alberta Pool Elevators will be compelled to contribute a portion of grain for reserves or any indebtedness in connection with 1929 Pool overpayment.

That statement is a deliberate outrage! It has been refuted time and time again, but still is being industriously circulated.

The Alberta Wheat Pool herewith repeats definitely and finally, that NO DEDUCTIONS will be taken from the proceeds of deliveries of the 1931 crop to the Alberta Wheat Pool or Alberta Pool Elevators for reserves or for payment of any indebtedness in connection with 1929 Pool overpayment.

If anyone advises you differently, you are asked to write Head Office of Alberta Wheat Pool, Calgary.
